

AI Readiness Discussion

Find Your AI Starting Point

What is it?

The AI Readiness Discussion is an informal 30-minute exploration designed to help you identify practical AI opportunities within your organization. Through a structured yet conversational approach, we'll help you identify pain points, explore possibilities, and outline priorities that matter most to your team.

What We Will Explore Together

Current AI Awareness

What's on your radar? What conversations are already happening?

Existing Initiatives

Any pilots, experiments, or grassroots efforts underway?

Process Friction

Where do Windchill, PLM, or operational workflows create bottlenecks?

Magic Wand

If you could solve one problem instantly, what would it be?

Value & Risk Perception

What excites you about AI?
What concerns you?

Operational Challenges

Quality issues, scheduling conflicts, resource constraints.

What You'll Walk Away With

Organizational Readiness

Understand where you stand and what gaps exist

Identified Use Cases

Real opportunities across departments

Tailored Next Steps

Workshop or a pilot project

Potential Starter Project

A low-effort, high-impact way to begin your journey

Ready to Get Started?

Let's talk. In just 30-minutes, you'll gain insights into where AI can create value in your organization.
